EL AL NEWS

“We Are All Human” Exhibition of Dolls by AKIM and Israeli Artists at the King David Lounge

AKIM, the National Association for Habilitation of the Mentally Handicapped, is mounting an exhibition of dolls called “We Are All Human” at the Ben-Gurion Airport King David Lounge throughout August. Leading Israeli artists took part in this unique AKIM project, in support of the essential activities conducted by this association for adults and children with mental deficiencies and for their families. Dolls designed by about 50 of Israel’s leading artists – in the fields of entertainment, theater and the visual arts – were on display. A model doll was chosen that had no dominant features and was uniform in color. The Israeli artists designed and adorned the model dolls according to their own worldview; the creativity of Ninette Taub, Guy Pines, Coreen Elal and many other artists results in a special, colorful and variegated gallery of original art. The dolls were contributed by Ikea Israel, which has sponsored AKIM activities in recent years.

EL AL chose to offer the King David Lounge at Ben-Gurion Airport as a venue for the exhibition, in order to promote and encourage this important project, which will help give impetus to AKIM and its work on behalf of people with mental deficiencies. All proceeds from sales of the dolls will help AKIM continue its important work.

AKIM ISRAEL is an organization of parents that was founded in 1951, for maintaining and advancing the rights of some 30,000 people who are mentally deficient and for their families in all sectors of the population. AKIM works through dozens of branches throughout Israel, in areas that touch on all aspects of life – legislation and enforcement of rights, information, consultation and guidance services and projects related to employment and housing as well as cultural, sport and leisure services
